

A letter to prospective &

New Students

New students are required to purchase a $90 stocked art caddy. It includes all the high-quality supplies you'll need to get started: 9 oil paints, the most common brushes, a palette knife, 1 canvas, and a jar of mineral spirits. Caddies will be ready for you on your first day.

You will also need to restock supplies periodically: a new canvas for each project, paint as tubes run out (especially white), replaced mineral spirits when dirty, and potentially brushes if they are not cared for properly. I will give you instructions in class on how to wash brushes, but it is up to the student to keep them clean.

By requests, I now carry all the necessary art supplies in the studio. Snacks and drinks are also available to purchase. Items may be purchased during class, or you are welcome to place a credit on your account to use toward supplies as needed.

Classes will be held at my in-home art studio:

*507 Holly Drive
Dublin, GA 31021.*

The instruction fee is $75 per month. It includes one lesson per week, and is due by the first lesson each month. Unless I cancel the class, I DO NOT offer make-up classes. If a student is absent, the lesson is forfeited. Classes generally follow the local school calendars. In most months there will be 4 lessons, but some will have 3 or 5.

The total for the first month is $175: ($10 registration + $75 class + $90 caddy). If you have any questions, feel free to e-mail, call, or text me:

I am looking forward to teaching you about the exciting world of art as we work together to put your talent on canvas!

*See you soon,
Mrs. Rhonda*
